IN OTHER NEWS

April 2015

Welcome to News from the Southwest Washington Workforce Development Council (SWWDC), featuring information about the region's workforce system.

Construction Industry Input Sought

To gather information on areas of the building trades and construction industry that may be facing shortages of trained workers, SWWDC is seeking input, via a survey, from residential, commercial, specialty and heavy civil construction, organized labor and trades, such as painters, roofers, electricians and general labor.

The survey takes about 10 minutes to complete and is open until April 17. Click this link to take the survey <https://www.surveymonkey.com/s/CPXXMVQ> and please forward the link to your contacts in construction and the trades.

To learn more, contact Tracy Schreiber, Employer Services Manager, at tschreiber@swwdc.org or 360.567.3185.

Funds Available for Training Companies to Train IT/Software/Digital Technology Workers

Companies that provide training services may apply to SWWDC for funds to hold cohort or industry consortium training for advanced manufacturing and IT/software/digital technology workers.

Help for Companies to Hire and Pay for New Workers

Would it benefit your business to recoup 50 percent of new employees' salaries during the first few months when they're still learning their jobs? Would you hire a good candidate that was missing an industry certification, if she could obtain the certification at no cost to you?

Those are the goals behind WorkSource's On-the-Job Training program (OJT): make hiring new employees cost-effective and easy for your business and help you hire the right person and train them to meet your company's needs.

WorkSource will help you find candidates and reimburse you, up to $5,000, for their salary as they learn skills customized to your business. Reimbursement depends on the job and extent of training. To be eligible, contact WorkSource before you hire an applicant.

Your company may also qualify for tax credits for hiring certain job candidates, such as Veterans.

Over the past year, 44 companies in Southwest Washington have received more than $143,000 through the OJT program to improve the skills of approximately 65 new hires. Employers have found OJT reduces the costs of hiring and training a new employee and also increases employee retention.

Companies seeking new employees can contact Donna Hughes at WorkSource Kelso at 360.578.4259 or dhughes@esd.wa.gov or Darcy Hoffman in Vancouver at 360.735.5038 or dhoffman@esd.wa.gov.

Job seekers can also get no-cost help at WorkSource to gain skills to be competitive in today's job market. Call the Kelso office at 360.577.2250 or Vancouver at 360.735.5000.

Barri Horner, Senior Accountant

SWWDC's Senior Accountant, Barri Horner, provides operational and fiscal support for SWWDC and two partner organizations including, payroll, internal, state and funder reporting and cash flow management.

Barri ensures we meet the fiscal deadlines of our grantors and regulatory agencies and implements the fiscal processes required by grants and contracts. She helps co-workers, vendors and partners understand fiscal processes and information and provides technical assistance to our contractors.

Before joining SWWDC in 2009, Barri worked as a contract accountant for several area nonprofits. She has served on the board of the Salmon Creek Soccer Association and as a soccer referee.

Barri has a Bachelor of Science degree in Business Administration from Warner Pacific College in Portland, Oregon.

Originally from Cincinnati, Ohio, Barri enjoys spending time with her family while enjoying outdoor activities such as camping, hiking, fishing, skiing and taking road trips in the beautiful Pacific Northwest.

YouthBuild GED/Construction Skills Program Information Session April 21

YouthBuild Vancouver is holding an information session Tuesday, April 21 for Clark County residents, ages 17-24, who have dropped out of high school and are interested in obtaining a GED and job skills.

The free session will be held 4-5:30 p.m. at Partners in Careers, 3210 NE 52nd Street, Vancouver 98663. To register, contact Dave Cole at 360.696.8417 or dave@swwpic.org.

Those enrolled in YouthBuild have the opportunity, at no cost, to:

- Obtain a GED or high school diploma
- Gain two construction certifications
- Participate in building a house for a family in need
- Receive job, college and career preparation services

Applications are being accepted now for the next group of students.

The first class is underway and SWWDC and our collaborators: Partners in Careers, Evergreen Habitat for Humanity, Vancouver Housing Authority and WorkSource would like to thank the many individuals and companies that have supported YouthBuild.

Since the program launched in February, individuals have volunteered more than 260 hours making presentations and leading workshops for the students. In-kind donations total more than $4,000 and include school supplies, food, materials and t-shirts.

Special thanks to:

- Menucha Retreat Center – for all they did to make our Mental Toughness retreat a success
- Labor Works – for ongoing use of a van to transport students during field trips
- Vancouver Energy – for hard hats, safety glasses and vests (see photo above)
